

April 19th, 2017 - Beach Ceremony at Saintes-Maries-de-la-Mer
Jonette speaks after the Solar Initiation

The chalice has for so long been filled with blood. The sacrifice of animals, the sacrifice of humans as we fight, as we conquer. There was a painting yesterday where the angels were catching Jesus's blood in the golden chalice. What we are standing for now is the reawakening where the blood is poured into the sea. The chalice is no longer used for blood but it is used to hold the golden light. Then I saw the white dove of peace, which is the guardian of the second gate of heaven, the gate of the feminine, the pearly gate. The dove was above the chalice of gold at the end as a thank you for what we are. Not what we do, but what we are. This is such a gathering of magnificent masters and we are doing so much for the planet. Imagine that the chalice of blood no longer has to be what we worship. Now it's filled with alchemical light and gold. Thank you.

Now I see something else in the Pope's key. Below it was an anchor symbol with red ribbons. That's the blood washing away. Then there was the white ribbons that look like snakes— which is the opening of the new life. So the Pope knows that too. He may not know he knows.

Thank you all. If you didn't put your hands or feet in the sea, I invite you to, this time with the idea of washing away all blood, which means sacrifice and suffering. This mediation we will call the transmutation of suffering and sacrifice to God of light and love.

Mary is the title of the priestess, it comes from the word Mar which is sea. And it also comes from Kumara which are beings of Venus. So we make our homage to the sea and the priestess.

I asked why it is so windy. Wind and water are the feminine flow—when she cleans. Thank you all.

April 19th - After Beach Ceremony - (Jonette had collapsed on the beach)

I traveled to the dark side of the light. The world known as Hades. Imprisoned souls of darkness wait to be remembered, to be released. Damnation is a crime against the light. Through the will of forgiveness the damned are lifted by the beauty of our hearts. Simply that. The beauty of our hearts opens the gates of hell. The dark side of the light, becomes the light once again. Duality becomes transformed. Damnation is a crime against the light. I speak for all, the awakening Goddess. I am Kumara of the ancient ones. The light is One. Thank you.
